THE ANCIENT ART OF WAR AT SEA™

INSTRUCTIONS FOR HARD DISK INSTALLATION

If your computer has a hard disk you can install the Ancient Art of War at Sea on it by performing the following steps:

1. Start up your computer using DOS 2.0 or higher.

2. Set your active drive and current working directory to the location where you would like to install the Ancient Art of War at Sea (for example C:\AAWS). If you need more information on creating and using directories, please consult your DOS manual.

3. Insert the Ancient Art of War at Sea disk in drive A and close the drive door.

4. Type COPY A:*. and press ENTER. This will copy all of the files from the Ancient Art of War at Sea disk onto your hard disk.

To run the program from the hard disk make sure the Ancient Art of War at Sea floppy disk is in drive A and the C> prompt is displayed on the screen (if it isn't, type C: and press ENTER), then type WAS and press RETURN.

The copy protection scheme for the Ancient Art of War at Sea requires that the original floppy disk be in drive A when the program initially starts up. Once the title page is displayed you may remove the floppy disk from drive A.
